

You name it. We frame it!

We can frame almost anything, from paintings and photographs to three-dimensional objects and large-scale items like blueprints and maps. Awards, certificates, diplomas, and all types of memorabilia can be prepared for a winning display that makes a big impact.

When clients walk in your door, what do you want them to feel?

You may want to create a sense of security, where people are confident that they can trust your company. Or you might hope to inspire people and give them a thrill of excitement as they enter. Your business might rely on an aura of calm. Or you could wish to increase people's appetite.

Whichever approach makes sense for your business, what you put on your walls will set the mood. You can create a look that's elegant, eclectic, soothing, or stimulating. Your decor says it all, whether your message is one of reliability, relaxation, entertainment, or innovation.

Dress Your Space for Success

When you pair well-chosen artwork with expert framing, you create an ideal environment that sets the stage for success. Like a tailored suit, the art on your walls conveys an image that sets positive expectations before the first interaction begins.

The ReFrame Advantage

At ReFrame, we do more than just frame your collection. Our framing experts are trained professionals with advanced degrees in art and design. We will consult with you to create an overall effect that best conveys your message, including helping you select art, working with your unique space and business model, and finding the perfect framing choice to bring the whole look together.

Quality with a Conscience

We take a unique approach to framing: not only are we committed to top-quality, long lasting, extraordinary framing—we're also devoted to environmental sustainability and locally sourced materials. All our frames are made from locally reclaimed or recycled timber. We work exclusively with hardwoods that are left behind after storm damage or development projects. We don't cut down a single tree to make the beautiful frames we use to showcase artwork.

What a Difference a Frame Makes

Frames can make or break a design scheme. No matter how thoughtful your choice of artwork, poor-quality frames can signal an unprofessional environment and undercut your attempts to create a positive ambiance.

Polished, precise, craftsman-created frames put the finishing touch on your space to create a seamless look that reflects the quality of your business.
